

How do I distribute my podcast on Spotify, Apple, Google, Amazon, Pandora and other platforms?

Distributing your podcast across multiple apps is the best way to build your audience.

Spotify

Maintain a submission portal with an analytics dashboard that you can access here. Just be sure to mark Megaphone as your hosting provider upon submission.

Apple

To submit your podcast feed to Apple all you need is an Apple ID and password. You can then submit your Megaphone RSS feed to Apple here.

Other Platforms

There are a handful of prominent podcast platforms that don't pull from the iTunes Directory and require that you submit your RSS feed separately.

YouTube - connect your RSS feed to upload your podcast by following the steps here.

iHeart Radio creates stations for your show that are accessible online or on their app. iHeart accepts podcast submissions here

Amazon Music & Audible have added podcasts and now allow you to submit for inclusion on these platforms. You can submit your podcast(s) here.

Pandora allows submissions from any creator via a portal at amp.pandora.com/podcasts. A Pandora account is required to submit, which you can register for here if you don't already have a login.

TuneIn powers the Alexa skill for podcasts and is becoming increasingly important. Submit your show here.
